REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Renumbered independent claims 1, 4, 7 and 8 among other things teach the limitations "a computer terminal with a browser application with a plurality of windows simultaneously displaying browser content, each browser receiving an information receiving program or tag for an information receiving program from a server and each independent of each other retrieves delivery information for display after a predetermined period of time of inactivity, and terminating the information receiving program in response to an entering option or closing the window" in a computer network environment. The information receiving program is local to the browser and does not remain resident on the client computer and is freshly retrieved each time the user operates the browser.

The prior art does not teach the cited limitation.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
